Hall this morning to devise means by which the supply of water could be increased.

The city is now consuming daily about $5,000,000 a day, and the increase over the consumption of last year has become so great as to cause considerable alarm among the officials. The conduits and pumps are all being taxed to their uitime to repair, a famine, it is believed, would result.

City Works Commissioner White read a long document with a view to impressing the City Fathers with the seriousness of the situation.

The supply, he said, must be brought up to 100,000,000 gallons a day. In order to 20 this the water system would have to be extended beyond Hempstead to Massapequa.
